

Paper Code: 4133

M.A. HOME SCIENCE PREVIOUS

Paper – III

Population Studies and Entrepreneurship Development

Unit I

1. Population Education:
 - Meaning, definition and need of population education.
2. Concepts/ Terms related to population education.
 - Growth rate, IMR, MMR, density mortality morbidity, sex education, family life education, demography and population dynamics.

Unit II

3. Population of India and Rajasthan, Recent trends in population dynamics in relation to developing and developed countries.
4. Women Empowerment: Definition, need and policies related to women empowerment. Rights of women.

Unit III

5. Methods of population control in brief classification of methods.
 - Safe motherhood
6. Disease, patterns and reproductive health.

Unit IV

7. Entrepreneurship: Definition and importance
 - Process of entrepreneurship development.
 - Characteristics of Entrepreneurs.
 - Govt. policies and schemes for entrepreneurship development.

Unit V

8. Setting up of an enterprise:
 - Environment analysis – economic, social and technological.
 - Venture capital sources and documentation required.
 - Legal requirements for establishment of a new unit.

References:

1. Akhauri, M.M.P. (1990): Entrepreneurship for Women in India, NIESBUD, New Delhi.
2. Hisrich, R.D. and Brush C.G. (1986): The women entrepreneur D.C. Heath and Co., Toronto.
3. Patel, V.C. (1987): Woman entrepreneurship – Developing New Entrepreneurs, Ahmedabad EDII.