About the University

The Govind Guru Tribal University, Banswara Formerly known as (Rajiv Gandhi Tribal University) was renamed and headquarter moved to Banswara, and having its affiliated colleges in Banswara, Dungarpur and Pratappgarh. This is a state university, which was established by an Act in 2012 and (Change of Name and Headquarters, and Amendment) Act, 2016. Presently, University is located at Village Badvi, Banswara in a newly constructed building. The university is primarily for higher education, research, innovations, and development. It also aims at creating new knowledge, sharpening vocational skills, and developing appropriate attitudes among the promising young generation for the reconstruction of the society based on the highly cherished ideals of the functional democracy. In Dec 2021, Engineering college Banswara became Constituent College of GGTU Banswara & renamed as University College of Engineering Banswara. GGTU Banswara is having 155 affiliated colleges in which 17 Government Colleges are there.

About the Banswara

Banswara is also known as "City of a Hundred Islands", which is often referred to as "Cherrapunji of Rajasthan", because it receives the most rain in Rajasthan, as well as for the numerous islands in the Mahi River, which flows through the city. Sagar Dam has been constructed on the Mahi, about 16 kilometres (9.9mi) away from Banswara town. The Right and Left Main Canals and their distributaries irrigate 60,149 hectares (601.49 sqkm) of land. The Banswara district lies in the southernmost part of Rajasthan. It is surrounded by Pratappgarh in the north, Dungarpur in the west, Ratlam and Jhabua districts of Madhya Pradesh in the east and south and Dahod district, Gujarat to the south. The closest major city to Banswara is Udaipur which is 165 km away. Indore and Ahmedabad are also close, at 215 km and 245 km away respectively. The town is 827 km from New Delhi and 710 km from Mumbai.
